

Reading

داستان کوتاه

+ فایل صوتی

درس شانزدهم

+ کلمات و گرامر

Reported Speech

سطح B1

English Nerd Club

Mr. Gray was the manager of a small office in London. He lived in the country, and came up to work by train. He liked walking from the station to his office unless it was raining, because it gave him some exercise.

Mr. Gray was the manager of a small office in London. He lived in the country, and came up to work by train. He liked walking from the station to his office unless it was raining, because it gave him some exercise.

Mr. Gray was the manager of a small office in London. He lived in the country, and came up to work by train. He liked walking from the station to his office unless it was raining, because it gave him some exercise.

One morning he was walking along the street when a stranger stopped him and said to him, 'you may not remember me, sir, but seven years ago I came to London without a penny in my pockets.

One morning he was walking along the street when a stranger stopped him and said to him, 'you may not remember me, sir, but seven years ago I came to London without a penny in my pockets.

One morning he was walking along the street when a stranger
stopped him and said to him,
'you may not remember me, sir,
but seven years ago I came to London without a penny in my pockets.

I stopped you in this street and asked you to lend me some money, and you lent me five pounds, because you said that you were willing to take a chance so as to give a man a start on the road to success.'

I stopped you in this street and asked you to lend me some money, and you lent me five pounds, because you said that you were willing to take a chance so as to give a man a start on the road to success.

I stopped you in this street and asked you to lend me some money, and you lent me five pounds, because you said that you were willing to take a chance so as to give a man a start on the road to success.'

Direct speech vs. Reported speech

Direct

Tom said, 'I'm feeling ill.'

I told her, 'I don't have any money.'

Reported

Tom said that he was feeling ill.

I told her I didn't have any money.

Direct speech vs. Reported speech

Direct

She said, 'I'm going to learn to drive.'

You said, 'I'm willing to take a chance.'

Reported

She said (that) she was going to learn to drive.

You said (that) you were willing to take a chance.

Mr. Grey thought for a few moments and then said, 'yes. I remember you. Go on with your story.'

'Well,' answered the stranger, 'are you still willing to take a chance?'

Mr. Grey thought for a few moments and then said, 'yes. I remember you. Go on with your story.'

'Well,' answered the stranger, 'are you still willing to take a chance?'

Mr. Grey thought for a few moments and then said, 'yes. I remember you. Go on with your story.'

'Well,' answered the stranger, 'are you still willing to take a chance?'

- What did the stranger say to Mr. Gray?
- The stranger told Mr. Gray that he might not remember him.
- What did Mr. Gray answer?
- Mr. Gray said that he remembered him.

- What did the stranger say then?
- The stranger asked him whether he was still willing to take a chance.

Review + audio

t.me/englishnerd_ir

Mr. Gray was the manager of a small office in London. He lived in the country, and came up to work by train. He liked walking from the station to his office unless it was raining, because it gave him some exercise.

One morning he was walking along the street when a stranger stopped him and said to him, 'you may not remember me, sir, but seven years ago I came to London without a penny in my pockets.

I stopped you in this street and asked you to lend me some money, and you lent me five pounds, because you said that you were willing to take a chance so as to give a man a start on the road to success.'

Mr. Grey thought for a few moments and then said, 'yes. I remember you. Go on with your story.'

'Well,' answered the stranger, 'are you still willing to take a chance?'

